

'Ten... Shun! Company E Opens Ranks for Inspection

The most important day of the entire year comes March 19 to First Lieut. Jack M. Greenspan and the members of Company 'E' of the 132nd Engineer Battalion, Torrance, when the National Guard outfit holds its annual open house at Torrance Armory, 2505 Cabrillo Ave. . . . A special team of inspector generals from Sixth Army Headquarters, Presidio of San Francisco, will be here all day to check the operations of Commanding Officer Greenspan's unit. City officials and the public will be present at 7:30 p.m. when members of the unit are inspected in ranks and demonstrate their training program.

Mayor Albert Isen will lead numerous city officials through the armory. For unit members, the inspection report is the highlight of the year, because it determines the unit's rating for the Department of the Army. Army experts will arrive at 2 p.m. to inspect company records, weapons, equipment and physical experience. In the evening, men will don Class A winter green uniforms and present weapons for a personal inspection. Open house and the inspection have several purposes, according to Lieut. Greenspan. He listed three:

1. Checking the unit's operation to be sure everything is being done according to regulations.
 2. Determining the level of training the unit has reached.
 3. Providing the public with an opportunity to see how the National Guard is prepared for an emergency.
- Included in the evening program are demonstrations in machine gun fire, bridge building and other engineer exercises.

Music Festival Presented by Young Students

Students from eight of the elementary schools of Torrance presented their annual Northern Section Music Festival last Friday at North High School. The program, to which the general public was invited included a variety of dances, marches, folk songs and symphonic works which represented the versatility, educational and cultural growth of Torrance students in musical production.

Music directors and schools taking part in the concert were Orville Bickel, director of instrumental music at Hamilton, Yukon and Edison Elementary schools; Milton Marcus who teaches music at Carr, Casimir and Lincoln elementary schools; and Paul Needles, in charge of instrumental music at Madison, Perry and Crenshaw elementary schools.

Crown of Miss Torrance Awaits Her on April 19

Application forms for the 1963 Miss Torrance Contest may be obtained from the Torrance Chamber of Commerce, Flavio Bisignano, general chairman of the pageant, has announced. The contest will be held Friday evening April 19 at 7:30 p.m., in the city's new Recreation Center Building at Torrance Civic Center.

The winner of the Miss Torrance Contest will reign as a representative of the City of Torrance at various civic functions. In addition to Miss Torrance, two other girls will be selected as Princesses to assist her.

The first major event the winner and runners-up will take part in is the annual

Armed Forces Day Parade and celebration.

To be eligible, a young lady must be single at least 17 and not more than 25 on the date of the contest, and have been a resident of the City of Torrance proper for at least 90 days.

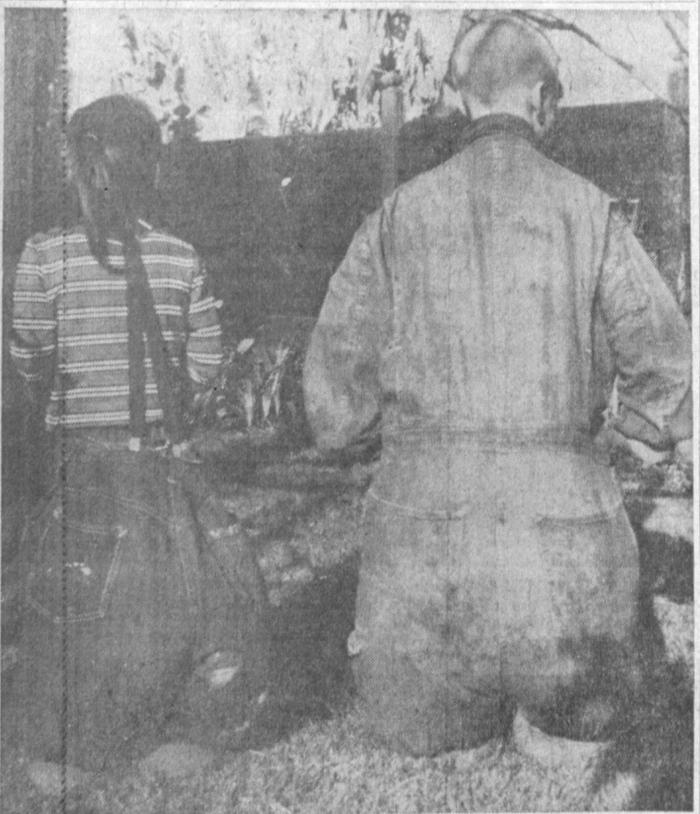

Bisignano said the Miss Torrance Contest is not a bathing beauty contest. Contestants will wear semi-formal dress and will be judged on their overall attractiveness, poise, speech and charm. The contest, he added, is a quest for the young lady, who in the opinion of the judges, is the person best qualified to represent the community.

Bisignano reported that registration may be made by a letter addressed to the Contest Committee, Torrance Chamber of Commerce, 2204 Torrance Blvd.,

Torrance, or by picking up entry forms and contest rules between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, at the Chamber office.

Young ladies who enter the contest can arrange for a photograph by calling The Press, DA 5-1515, and asking for the editor. The pictures will appear in The Press from time to time between now and the night of the contest.

I LIKE THIS PICTURE because who can have for fun than kids, if you give them a little help with adult's clothing and pillows for padding? The two are my grandchildren, Jean and Gordon McDonald, of 3434 W. 224th St., Torrance.—Mrs. S. H. McDonald, 201 214th St.
